Yellow Fever Now Raging at Biloxi, Miss.

SECRET BURIALS IN THE NIGHT.

The List of Victims of the Recent Flood now Reaches Two Hundred and Fifty—The Work of Relief

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—The state board of health having received information of the prevalence of fever at Biloxi, Miss., eighty miles distant, and the death there of a number of persons from this cause, held a special meeting today to consider the matter. Statements before the board showed that an itinerent mechanic named Sumpter, who came from Biloxi, died yesterday at Mississippi City. Physicians pronounced Sumpter's disease bilious fever, but one of the nurses said he vomited "black stuff."

Dr Walker made an alarming statement, as coming from people from Biloxi, that nearly every family there had cases of fever. He was told that there existed up to last night 270 cases that for the past two weeks people were being buried quietly at night, and that in the day time bodies were laid away surreptitiously.

Mr Charles Marshall, superintendent of the Louisville & Nashville road, stated that he was told that Dr Lemon had pronounced the cause of his wife's death at Biloxi as yellow fever. Marshall had received a telegram from the station agent, which bore the information that there were thirty or forty cases at Biloxi, and that Drs Lemon and Maybine had advised about the nature of the fever, Dr Lemon adhering to the belief that it was unquestionably yellow fever. The board thereupon issued a notice to officials of Biloxi, declaring strict quarantine against it.

THE SOUTHERN DISASTER.

The List of Drowned now Placed at Two Hundred and Fifty

BEAUMONT, Tex., Oct. 17.—Refugees from the flooded district about Sabine Pass continue to arrive on every small craft that comes up the river. It is estimated by those here who have been over the scenes of devastation at Sabine Pass, Johnson bayou and Taylor's bayou that the death list will exceed 250 souls. Eighty-five corpses have been recovered and buried around Johnson's bayou, and fifty-four bodies thus far have been buried at Sabine, while sixty-six persons are still missing at Sabine, and these are, of course, dead, as it would be impossible for any human being to survive this long in the swamps and lagoons without food or shelter.

An examination of the country back of Sabine and immediately in the vicinity of Beaumont, shows that salt water came back from the coast fully forty miles, through the swamps, and hundreds of thousands of acres are still submerged by water that was forced back and has no outlet. This fact makes the search for bodies very difficult.

The carcasses of thousands of drowned cattle, hogs, horses and fowls are strewn everywhere, and clouds of sea gulls and buzzards hover over the desolate county for an area of thirty square miles.

It is known that the number of sufferers around Johnson's bayou, who have lost every thing, will reach 1200, while Sabine sufferers number 300, one-half of whom are now in Beaumont.

Parties who returned to-day from the Johnson bayou district say that sixty persons are still missing there, and the searching parties have almost reached the conclusion that many of these missing were drowned and their bodies carried out to sea by the receding waves.

SURVIVORS TAKEN TO ORANGE.

GALVESTON, Oct. 17.—The following special to the Associated Press from Orange, Texas, gives the latest particulars regarding the great disaster at Johnson bayou and Sabine Pass. The steamer Emily P returned at ... o'clock this afternoon, bringing 160 additional sufferers from Johnson's bayou, who are entirely destitute of everything that is necessary to sustain life. They were received at the wharf by our relief committee, who are doing all in their power to make them comfortable. Most of them are women and children. The Emily P will return to the bayou immediately, to bring back 150 more persons who are waiting there and who are now homeless, penniless and without clothing. We now have to take care of 310 persons from that section.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

The Matter Discussed by the Trades Assembly—Barry Still at Work

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—One hundred additional Pinkertons arrived at the improvised barracks in the stock yards this evening. The force now numbers 450 men.

The strike came before the trades assembly to-day, and raised quite a commotion. ... Lyons introduced a resolution holding P. D. Armour responsible for the strike and at the bottom of the trouble. The resolution also called on the assembly to use its influence to induce all persons not to trade at the shops where Armour's meats are sold. The introduction of the resolution brought a number of delegates to their feet instanter. A. C. Cameron vehemently asserted that there was not a scintilla of proof to show that Armour was more or less culpable than the other packers, and he was opposed to singling out one man and destroying his business when others were as deep in the mud as he in the mire. Another delegate said the stock yards employes had neither asked nor taken such action yet, and when they did it would be time enough for the assembly to act. At this point Chairman Crawford ruled that, as the resolution virtually contemplated a boycott the assembly could take no action on it but refer it to the boycott board, which was done.

BARRY STILL AT WORK.

Acting under instructions from General Master Workman Powderly, T. P. Barry will not, contrary to announcement, not go to Richmond, but will remain here and continue his efforts to bring about an amicable settlement. To-night Barry said he hoped for a speedy adjustment of the trouble, ... what basis he could not say, but he was of the opinion that a compromise of some sort would be effected. He said he had been authorized by Powderly to settle the difficulty, and was invested with full power to act.

Fully 1000 Knights of Labor met this afternoon ... Turner hall in secret session. ... Barry made a report, giving an outline of the negotiations which had been conducted by the committee of which he was chairman. The meeting passed a vote of confidence in the committee and pledged itself to obey all orders which might be issued.

The present status of the strike is given by Barry as follows: "I have explained to packers, especially Mr. Kent, that a mere technicality is all that prevents a settlement. The men want simply a formal recognition of the eight-hour day, and do not object to work over time, wages for which shall be at the same rate as regular time. The packers refuse to concede this one point. As Armour says, they have counted the cost, and the shedding of a little blood will not stop or influence them in the least. I have all confidence in the strikers. If they remain quiet and peaceable and stick together, victory is sure and easy."

THE NEW YORK CONTEST.

Hewitt Fires a Broadside at Henry George—The Labor Men Disappointed

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—In ... Abram S. Hewitt, accepting the ... democracy nomination for mayor ... Theodore Roosevelt accepting the ... nomination, are published. ... Hewitt treats the issue ... supporting himself and Henry George the labor candidate. He thus ... that on both sides it is conceded that ... reforms in congress are necessary. The ... is solely as to the methods ... the needed social amelioration. ... democratic party it is believed that our system of government is not only ... the proper disposition of every ... affords the best possible ... into effect the will of the people. The other side proposes a radical departure from the existing methods of free government by political parties composed of citizens in every walk of life, and ask us to substitute not merely new ideas as to the nature of property, but new modes of government, through organization of special classes of the community. The issue is thus between the democratic idea of the founders of the republic and the socialistic views of mere theorists, who have never had experience in the practical business of life, generated in an atmosphere foreign to our habits and modes of thought, and based largely upon grievances which have no existence under our form of government."

Roosevelt simply refers to existing abuses in the city government, and promises to attempt to remedy them. The Irving hall men threaten to indorse Henry George.

GEORGE'S MANAGERS DISAPPOINTED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Henry George spoke at eight different meetings last night on the east side. All were crowded and enthusiastic, but there is no attempt on the part of George's managers to conceal their disappointment at the union of the democratic factions upon one candidate, and that candidate of recognized high standing.

A GREAT FIRE RAGING.

The Town of Salisbury, Maryland, Almost Destroyed—Losses Aggregate $1,000,000

SALISBURY, Md., Oct. 17.—Fire which started in a small frame stable about 7 o'clock to-night swept over the entire business portion of this village. A brisk wind from the southeast spread the flames rapidly, while the inhabitants stood by, powerless to prevent the destruction, as the dry frame buildings burned too fiercely to be checked by small fire apparatus. Assistance has been asked from Sheffield and Wilmington, Del., but at a late hour to-night it looks as though the entire village would be destroyed. It is impossible to enumerate the property loss at this late hour, but a rough guess places it at over $1,000,000. Stores, with their contents, were licked up by the flames, and the streets to-night are full of people whose houses have been destroyed.

Midnight.—The fire is still burning fiercely, and there seems to be no hope of staying its progress. No lives have been lost.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

WRECKED BY THE GOVERNMENT

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—The South Boston Iron works, a well known factory, last night suspended operations on account of inability to pay the workmen. The shut down may last two weeks or as many months. Nearly 250 expert ironworkers are thrown out of employment. For the past six weeks the men have received no pay, and the suspension is explained by the fact that the government owed the works $250,000 for rifled cannon, carriages and other work performed of late, and appropriations not being forthcoming the resources of the company became almost exhausted.

A SCHOONER PROBABLY WRECKED.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 17.—During a storm on Lake Erie last night, a schooner with distress signals hoisted was sighted several miles out. The men were in the rigging, and the vessel appeared to be going to pieces. The sea was running high, and no attempt was made to rescue until this morning, when no trace of the vessel could be seen. All day pieces of wreck have been coming in, but no bodies have been washed ashore. The name of the schooner is not known.

PRINCE LOUIS NAPOLEON.

DENVER, Oct. 17.—Prince Louis Napoleon arrived here to-night from Salt Lake. He remained in the city an hour, and at 11 o'clock took a special car on the Burlington road for Chicago.

CRIMINAL CALENDER.

SHOT BY A SALOON KEEPER.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 17.—Four drunken railroad laborers entered George Keifer's saloon to-day and raised a row. They were ordered out, and responded by smashing all the windows and furniture. The proprietor shot William Daily and John Burns, and their companions fled. Both men are mortally wounded. Keifer walked to the police station and gave himself up.

SHOT HIS WIFE AND KILLED HIMSELF.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—Henry Zigler to day shot his wife Mamie three times, and then cut his own throat with a pocketknife and fired a bullet through his head, expiring almost instantly. The woman may recover.

Tom Otis and Charlie Parker, students at the Indian industrial school near this city, shook the dust of the institution from their feet a few days since, and departed for pastures new. They are both from the Warm Springs reservation, and Col Lee, the superintendent, is desirous of once more placing them within the sheltering of his fold.

Joseph Cavanaugh, the senior city policeman, claims that his recent trial of the back door of Anderson & Adolph's saloon, which occasioned the shooting scrape between himself and Anderson, was prompted by the request of Mr. Adolph, although he (Cavanaugh) had been warned by Mr. Anderson never to attempt anything of the kind, as he considered himself thoroughly capable of watching the premises himself. The matter is now in the hands of the grand jury, however, and the blame will no doubt be placed where it rightfully belongs.

A Want of Money Preserves Peace in Europe.

VIEWS OF AN AMERICAN DIPLOMAT

Disastrous Effects of the Recent Storm—A Brighter Sky for Ireland—Villard Sails for America—A Steamer Wrecked.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Hon. T. P. O'Connor cables from London to the Sun: Money is playing the biggest part in the eastern imbroglio. Russia is not in a position financially to meet the drain of a big war without terrible sacrifices. Austria's exchequer is also weak, and her securities, like those of Russia, are largely held in Berlin. Turkey is already on the very verge of bankruptcy, and carries on her national affairs with the help of funds raised by hypothecation of every conceivable public security not previously mortgaged to England, Russia and Germany. The purchasing power of the rouble to-day is actually lower than it was during the Russo-Turkish war. Bulgaria has not one cent in her treasury, and lives from hand to mouth. Russia, financially so weak herself, has no stronger hold on Bulgaria than the latter's terrible monetary necessity. Bulgarian peasants, and all classes indeed, will not suffer further taxation without resistance, and thus tens of thousands are now, in the nature of things, likely to fall an easy prey to the Russian rouble.

BISMARCK DARE NOT STRIKE.

The largest Russian public loans, and most of the loans privately negotiated between the government and bankers, are chiefly held in Germany. Bismarck wishes has ample reason secretly to be aiming a deadly blow at Russia, holds back reluctantly, not only for fear of being taken at a disadvantage by France, but chiefly because he knows that a rupture would financially cause almost irreparable loss to the bankers, merchants and thrifty masses.

Indications point to a restoration of order in the Balkan states and pacification of the relations of Russia and Bulgaria. A majority of the great powers have invited Russia, believing that the czar is resolved no matter what may happen, at least to nominate his own candidate for the throne of Bulgaria, to name a personage whom she favors. This present situation terminates in a triumph of Russian diplomacy over all the real and nominal enemies of the empire, and a special defeat for the English foreign office.

OPINION OF AN AMERICAN DIPLOMAT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The Post's Washington correspondent telegraphs: A member of the diplomatic corps, who has spent the summer in Europe, and has just returned, expressed the following opinion on the European situation: "Europe seems now to be resting on a powder magazine, which may be exploded at any moment. The first Napoleon predicted that in 100 years Europe would be all Cossack or republican. Possibly this prediction is on the eve of fulfillment. Russia is just now attracting the attention of the world. Its grasp is fixed firm upon Bulgaria. Next it will be upon Constantinople, and the situation seems about ripe. But for the fact that the great empire of Russia is being watched by Bismarck, who holds in his hands the fate of peace or war, there could be little doubt what would happen. Russia is regarded as a powerful nation, and may crush any adversary. I think that this impression is wrong. Russia would be the most powerful nation on the face of the earth if able to concentrate her forces. This she is not able to do. It seems to me probable that war will ultimately come over all Europe. In that case the United States alone will escape the turmoil that will shake the foundations of all Europe. It is evident that the present social conditions in Europe cannot be maintained. The conservatism of monarchical governments makes reform impossible, and the consequence is there is likely to be a general revolt against this system of government and some of the present forms of social order."

ENGLAND

DISASTROUS EFFECTS OF THE STORM

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Reports have been received from all parts of the kingdom telling of disastrous effects from the hurricane. The British ship Mulleny was wrecked in Bristol channel and twenty persons drowned. The shore is strewn with wreckage. Bodies washed ashore have been stripped of valuables by wreckers.

The Norwegian bark Frederickstand, from Musquash, N. B., for Swansea, was wrecked off Radstow and nineteen persons were drowned. The bark Alliance was also wrecked off Radstow, and four lives were lost. Other persons on board were saved by a lifeboat.

Another large bark was seen to be in terrible distress, the crew being huddled together on deck. The vessel foundered this morning, and it is believed that from a dozen to twenty persons were drowned. The gale prevented people on shore from rendering assistance. The cries of the doomed men were heard distinctly by those who were watching the vessel from the shore.

Latest reports show that the effects of the recent storm in the south and west coasts were terrible. A Norwegian bark foundered off Tintagel, Wales, and her entire crew, consisting of fifteen persons, perished. Ten bodies have washed ashore on the Glamorgan coast.

A BRIGHTER SKY FOR IRELAND.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Affairs in Ireland are pursuing a course exceeding satisfactory to the government. Gen Sir Redvers Buller's mission has certainly accomplished much, and landlords are generally responding to Hartington's appeal to deal tenderly with their tenants. The result is, we hear nothing of the sweeping evictions which were predicted. Even United Ireland admits that there has been an extraordinary reduction of judicial rents, and says it only remains on the tenants themselves to carry out Parnell's 50 per cent. reduction.

VILLARD SAILS FOR AMERICA.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Henry Villard sailed for New York on a North German Lloyd steamship on Thursday last. He returns to remain permanently in the United States. In Europe he has been comparatively unoccupied. He goes back to New York as representative of a German syndicate of great strength.

THE WEST INDIES.

BRITISH STEAMER WRECKED.

KEY WEST, Oct. 17.—Advices from Nassau report the total loss of the British steamer Juliet, on Gingerbread ground, the Bahamas. She was bound from Cardiff to New Orleans with a cargo of rails, which are now being salved and taken to Nassau.

SPAIN.

SPAIN WILL RETALIATE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The World's cablegram from Madrid says: If President Cleveland's proclamation imposing heavier duties on exports of Cuba is carried out Spain will put American goods under the highest column of tariff.

THE PRIZE RING.

A QUIET FIGHT AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—A select party of about 100 sporting men last night, "on the quiet," witnessed a prize fight in a room near the board of trade building. The principals were Charley Reed, of Buffalo, and John Brindy, of Omaha. Thirty-three rounds, lasting two hours and ten minutes, were fought with skin gloves. Reed won, but both men were terribly punished and had to be taken away in carriages.

DEATH OF A PUGILIST.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—Mike McCool, well known in pugilistic circles, died this morning at a charity hospital here of kidney disease and complications resulting therefrom. He was 49 years old.

A Democratic Growl.

New York World.

The unrebuked "pernicious activity" of Federal office-holders in politics is getting to be scandalously monotonous—if this expression does not involve a paradox: things that are common ordinarily ceasing to be scandalous.

The Indiana cases, submitted by Civil Service Commissioner Edgerton to be in a large measure true, and supported by specifications and proof, have evolved no punishment. The flagrant disregard of the president's order by officials in Cincinnati, Connecticut and New Orleans is apparently unnoticed. And now the postmaster at Hoboken is shown to have taken an active part in securing the renomination of Congressman McAdoo. Threats of discipline have been freely reported, and the solicitous Evening Post has advised the president to order the basket of sawdust preparatory to setting the guillotine at work. And yet no head has fallen, though the election is but three weeks off.

Can it be that the example of prominent members of the administration and of the premier secretary have emboldened lesser officials to have the courage of their instincts?

NOTES FROM CHICAGO.

Topics of the Time in the Great Central Metropolis

Correspondence of the Oregonian.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11, 1886.

Chicago is rarely without a sensation. The past week has been fruitful in surprises. First came the failure of A. B. Gage & Co., and hardly had the discussion of its effects upon the trade ceased before the announcement was made of an enormous defalcation at the stock yards. When the smoke cleared away it was found that the firm of J. C. Ferguson & Co., pork packers, had been ruined, and that Canada is once more the asylum of one who raised $350,000 on "bogus" securities. Meanwhile 20,000 men have been thrown out of employment at the stock yards by their refusal to accept ten hours' wages for ten hours' work. There will be a stubborn fight between labor, led by demagogues, on the one hand, and capital, backed by just demands, on the other. At other points a day means ten hours. Hence the packers here, in order to compete successfully, must be released from a handicap of 20 per cent. Their position is an altogether justifiable one, and the result will be looked for with interest throughout the country.

The sentence of the anarchists Saturday meets with universal approval. Though admiring his grit, no one envies Judge Gary his position. The knife must go far deeper to cut out the cancer of anarchy and its origin—socialism. In my opinion the laxity with which law has been administered with regard to gambling and corruption at elections in this city is directly responsible for the growth and development of the disease. The political career of Mayor Harrison has been one of apparent virtue and honesty, while secretly his sympathy and influence have been given to the worst elements in the city. Always posing as a reformer, he has had but one interest at heart, viz., the capture of the almighty vote. If one-tenth of the executive energy that has been spent by him in securing re-elections were expended in an attempt to weed out "gaming" (as the Chicago press calls it) a long step would be taken toward making this a clean city. As it is, Chicago is known from ocean to ocean as the chosen refuge of thugs, gamblers, thieves—in fact of every kind of outlaw. But it will require a volcanic upheaval of public conscience to effect any radical change.

The marked decline in grain and provision values during the past fortnight is an anomaly. In nearly every other branch of trade and industry firmer and higher prices are the rule. The activity in the iron business, which is the most accurate measure of the country's prosperity, is a most cheerful augury of better times. The large increase of clearances at the different monetary centers, though partly accounted for by heavy dealings in stocks, indicates a greater volume of business everywhere. The boom in railroad stocks at this time means an unprecedented grain movement. It would seem as if the farmers who have been disappointed the past two years in holding their grain had made up their minds to "dump" the whole crop on the market as soon as cars could be found to carry it. The result has been an enormous increase in the visible supply, which has not only "knocked the bottom" out of the home markets but depressed values at that far below their normal and legitimate level. Let no one suppose Chicago influences have not been the prime factor in this movement. There exists to-day, as there did two months ago, a European deficiency to supply, which will require all our available surplus. But European markets will not show strength as long as grain values in the United States keep tending downward. After the war in Europe had been removed, though that may recur at any time—the movement of winter wheats began to be followed by free deliveries of spring. Meanwhile local speculators have kept "pounding" the market by enormous lines of short sales. The sustaining influences of country purchases have all been absorbed by "bucket shops," which have sprung up in nearly every town in the West. Then when everybody supposed bottom had been reached, several elevators of damaged wheat were discovered up in Milwaukee. This fact tended to throw discredit on the grade, and almost a panic was created in that market. Finally several heavy operators in St. Louis, who had been carrying several millions of bushels, threw up their deals, and to cap the climax came the failure of Ferguson & Co., Saturday. It is said that the market must still be depressed low enough to wipe out a Cincinnati syndicate who are "long" 10,000,000 bushels, and who have put up $1,000,000 in margins. When this noble purpose is accomplished the country may expect to see a healthy rise in values. But by that time the farmers will have disposed of two-thirds of their crop, and everybody outside of Chicago will have lost all confidence in higher prices. M.

A PERFERVID EFFORT

Even a Hobby Horse May Take the Bit in its Teeth and Run Away with a Man

WILLIAMSPORT, Oct. 15

TO THE EDITOR ... ROOSTIAN

Your strange comparison of the two monster evils, slavery and the liquor traffic, making the former a "crime" and the latter not criminal as it is ... Of course, we are to understand ... the word "crime" as used by you, to mean a violation of the laws of heaven, and therefore synonymous with sin, wrong or evil, ... are aware that neither slavery nor the liquor traffic was forbidden by the law of the land during the time of the existence of slavery, and hence was not a "crime" in that small sense. And in consideration of your hastily enacted and unweighed declaration, (I will allow you the excuse), let us imagine the high court of heaven taking evidence and weighing the two crimes, (for such they certainly are in the divine statute), in the balances of faultless equity. As witnesses in the case, the moral opposers of slavery have no murder in their indictments. Upon the hands of the liquor business is found the blood of 60,000 of our people every year, and it is well known that alcoholic poisons are the remote cause of the death of a vastly greater number.

Slavery was charged with being a wrong against the African race. The liquor traffic trails its vast army to fill 60,000 shameful graves from among our own people. Slavery kept its specious snares set night and day, upon every lane and corner, to entangle the feet of our boys and young men and drag them down to a loathsome life, a miserable death and a hopeless grave. Slavery laid no grievous burthen of taxes upon us for the support of criminal courts, armies of police, prisons, almshouses, orphanages and lunatic asylums. Slavery presented no tabulated statistics, aggregating to the nation $900,000,000 a year, almost $30 to every man, woman and child, given as a stimulus to the gambler, the thief and the murderer, and a premium upon every hellish crime that rum-debased humanity is capable of. Slavery did not come to our every door and assail us, with hands imbued in the blood of our friends and neighbors. No fond wife or devoted mother ever turned the weary head upon the tear-bathed pillow in sleepless consciousness that her dear ones were being lured into dens of—African slavery. But, ah! what man, woman or child has not seen, or sorely felt, the fearful scourge of the all-harrowing liquor traffic. And who, other than an omnipresent God of infinite compassion can number the sighs and bitter wails from the homes made miserable by the pitfalls kept constantly set, and baited with all-satanic skill for the ruin of those most promising, to friends and society? Go, search with all diligence, the records of our parallel, the war against slavery; compile the extreme charges and denunciations and pen-pictures of Garrison, Smith, Greeley, Beecher and Mrs. Stowe weave all into the most uncomely, repulsive fabric in which to represent slavery, and it appears wholly inoffensive in comparison with the liquor traffic. Aye, place the institution of slavery beside that monster evil, and the contrast is like that of an angel of mercy beside the arch-demon whose chief occupation and pleasure it is to ensnare the brightest and most beloved of earth, with whom to people his own dark realms of despair. T. J. ALLEY.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

A Governmental Study of the Habits of Birds.

THE RAVAGES OF SPARROWS.

The Aggressive Attitude of the Canadian Pacific—Its Low Rates on California Business—Notes from the North.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Material is largely in hand in the newly organized division of economic ornithology of the department of agriculture for a series of bulletins upon the relations of several common species of birds in this country to agriculture. Evidence collected will have a strong tendency in some cases to upset widely prevalent notions respecting the habits and value of certain birds; in others to lead to organized efforts for the mitigation or extinction of pests which bring destruction to valuable branches of agriculture. In the latter category Dr. C. H. Merriam, head of the division, places the English sparrow as chief. This bird was imported with a flourish of praise some years ago, as an agent for protection of shade trees from the ravages of caterpillars, inch worms and other creeping things, and has so multiplied and developed among its surroundings as to become a vastly greater scourge than the one it was expected to counteract. The present rate of increase is enormous, and the new territory which it invades is estimated at more than 130,000 square miles annually. It is essentially a town bird, nesting almost exclusively about and upon projections of buildings, but it takes long vacations during the fruit-growing season, and wreaks its ferocious appetite upon the largest and juciest of grapes and the daintiest of tree fruits, in which work of destruction its aggregate of damage is almost incomputable. How best to prevent further increase and curtail its roving propensities is an unsolved problem. It may be shot or poisoned, or it may be dispoiled of its nest, but neither plan promises permanent relief.

IN THE RICE FIELDS.

It is estimated that the annual loss to rice planters from the depredations of this bird is between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. Dr. Merriam recently spent some time in the rice fields of South Carolina, for the purpose of studying the habits of the bird. He found planters making their usual heroic efforts, and with a partial success, to save their crops. For illustration, a field of 200 acres required the employment of more than fifty men and boys. Their duty was, morning and evening, to create such a hubbub with guns and other noise-producing implements as would prevent the birds from settling upon this particular field and scare them over to those of their neighbors, where a similar din was in progress for like purpose.

Dr. Merriam thinks that a single hawk, trained as were falcons, with which sportsmen of the middle ages amused themselves, would be an effective protection to a rice field of 200 acres. It is probable that an experiment in this direction will be tried, if a person of sufficient experience in the training of birds can be found to undertake it.

With regard to our indigenous birds of prey, hawks and owls, for killing which Pennsylvania and perhaps other states pay a premium, Dr. Merriam and other ornithologists are convinced that their services are of great value to the farmer. No more than three out of upwards of thirty species prey upon domestic fowls, and even these more than remunerate farmers by killing field mice.

CALIFORNIA.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC FIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Canned salmon and fruit are going East in large quantities now, via the Canadian Pacific, from this city. The low rates made on California business are due to the policy adopted by General Traffic Manager Olds, formerly an American traffic man of high standing, and of whom freight agents of American transcontinental roads stand in considerable fear. There were reports on the street yesterday that a big surprise was in store for the rivals of the Canadian Pacific.

"There is no telling what George Olds will do, now that he has full swing of the traffic of the Canadian line," said an agent yesterday. "He is a hard fighter. During the few months yet remaining before his road is blocked up by winter snows he is likely to cut rates to such an extent as to play hob with American lines."

But while through business is being taken at remarkably low rates by the Canadian Pacific, it is losing no opportunity to cinche its local shippers. The rate made on lumber from Port Moody to Calgary is as high as the rate on tea from Japan to New York.

WANT THEIR SHARE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Iselin, Neeser & Co., of New York, one of the creditors of the bankrupt firm of Hoffman & Co., have begun suit in the superior court, through their attorneys, asking that San Francisco creditors who obtained attachments on the assets of the insolvent firm be enjoined from proceeding further in actions against the firm. They also ask that a receiver be appointed to take possession of all the firm's property, with power to sell the same and distribute the proceeds pro rata among all the creditors. A temporary injunction has been granted.

MISS CUENIN MAY RECOVER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—To the surprise of all who know of the case, Miss Alice Cuenin is reported as being conscious and strong hopes of her recovery are felt by her friends. Physicians say that her recovery would be a remarkable one, if the bullet has penetrated the brain, as was as first supposed. It is now thought that the bullet may not have passed into the brain cavity, but may have been deflected without inflicting any serious injury to the brain.

THE CHARLESTON FUND HELD BACK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Much surprise is expressed here over the fact that the $11,000 which was collected several weeks ago in aid of the Charleston earthquake sufferers, has not yet been forwarded. This money is in the hands of Mayor Bartlett, and no known reason exists why it should be retained here, when there is such urgent need of it at the point for which it was contributed.

THE RAIN GENERAL.

Signal service reports show that the rain today extended south as far as Modesto, Salinas and Monterey, south of which places it was fair. In the northern part of the state, Oregon and Washington territory, there were occasional showers this morning. The rain extended along the whole coastline from Washington territory to Monterey.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

No single disease has entailed more suffering, or hastened the breaking up of the constitution, than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT and IMPROVED INHALER; price $1.

PORTLAND, MONDAY, OCT. 18, 1886.

THE STRIKE IN CHICAGO.

The argument for the strike in the packing houses in Chicago is based on the assumption that if the men work eight hours a day their employers will still be able to make money enough out of their labor; and the assumption is supported by citing the fact that the proprietors of the great packing houses have become enormously rich, presumably through the profits they have made out of the labor of their employes.

Of course employers must make a profit on labor, or they can't long employ it. What proportion of their accumulated wealth the members of the great packing firms owe to profits on labor no one can tell; but it is probable that the proportion is not large. Those great fortunes are made chiefly by foresight, skill and courage in manipulating the market. Where one packer makes such fortune one hundred fail, go down, and are never more heard of; and yet all have the same opportunity to make profits out of the labor they employ.

It is said that the strikers, impressed with the idea that employers have been making too much out of their labor, are considering a project of establishing a great co-operative packing-house at Chicago. But it requires no prophet to foretell that they will fail if they attempt it. They could do the work undoubtedly; but they couldn't do the business. As the Chicago Journal says: "They could kill and cut up pork and beef, if they had the hogs and the cattle and the plant. They could make barrels and cans if they had the staves, the tin and the other materials, and shops in which to work. They could do everything in running the industrial part of great packing establishments. But far more is requisite to create and operate an establishment of the kind." Money, management, knowledge of the market, business administration can't be had as skilled labor can be had in the mechanical departments. For, as the Journal also says: "Men who have money will not invest it unless they are to control it. If the money could be procured, the vast business management of a packing establishment would require a skill different from that possessed by the striking employes, and quite as important as theirs to success in business. All the skilled and unskilled labor employed in the packing-houses in Chicago could not carry on the packing business without the capital to create an establishment, and the skill to run the counting-house end of it and the big business office down town. The ability, the energy, the integrity, the experience and the pluck required in managing a great business can not be hired. Those possessing these qualities constitute the employing class; they are not in search of employment."

Such a business requires a single executive head, as an army requires a single commander. Then in handling the product the management must be able to meet, manipulate or make the market. Even if co-operation could turn out the product it would be confronted with this far more difficult problem. Men who can do these things do them on their own account, not in co-operation, or as employes of others. And if they were to try it in co-operation they would fail, since they could not have that entire freedom of action, that full control, so necessary to success in the management of all great undertakings.

TOO EMOTIONAL FOR TRUE REFORM.

The esteemed democratic daily newspaper that came into being here a few days ago, calls as loudly as it can on the administration to remove the remainder of the republican officeholders in Oregon. It is frank enough to say that this ought to be done, not because there is any complaint to be made with the manner in which the officials discharge their duties, but simply because democrats want the offices and are entitled to get them. We quote:

> The feeling embedded in the popular mind is that the election of a president means the change of substantially all of the federal officials into men of a like faith. It does not mean in the popular mind simply the change of the president and his cabinet. It means to them a new regime down to customs weigher. And this feeling is right.

Looking at the matter in this way, the new democratic organ proceeds:

> Voicing then the sentiment of the impartial masses of our party, we say to President Cleveland that he is offending against the common sense of the democratic masses by retaining numerous republican officials in office in Oregon. The masses feel it as a personal slight to their democracy and their enthusiasm for the first democratic president in a quarter of a century is dying away. Love dead is seldom re-kindled.

Here indeed is an unhappy state of affairs. THE OREGONIAN, sympathizing with the wounded feelings of its brethren of the new democratic organ, spreads this complaint before the world, and will take pains to see that a copy of the same is addressed to the White house. But it doesn't strike us as the kind of reform that the platform on which President Cleveland was nominated and elected called for, and we doubt whether President Cleveland will see in it the quality of reform to which he has pledged his administration.

Our democratic brethren have been getting the offices pretty fast, and no doubt will have about all of them by the close of President Cleveland's term. But so long as there remains one office that a democrat wants, these plaintive appeals will be continued throughout the land. These calls for the offices reveal a deep emotion on the subject, and there is no denying that the new democratic daily does speak with real "feeling." But the president evidently considers these exhibits of emotion inconsistent with genuine civil service reform, and therefore he appears to be disposed to allow the changes as to the remainder of the offices to wait, as a rule, till terms expire. And this, on the whole, besides being necessary for fulfillment of his pledges, is a sound political policy, both for him and for his party. Let us suggest to our brethren that they try to possess their souls in patience just a little while. Intense "feeling" on the subject—a burning desire to get the offices without waiting for the course of events—a hungry longing to Heliogabalize them as it were, directed at Cleveland evidently regards as inconsistent with that calm and disinterested judgment so necessary to true civil service reform.

DECREASED EXPORTS.

Exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the United States have fallen off greatly since 1881. There has been some reduction in cotton exports also—due chiefly, as in the case of breadstuffs, to rapid increase of production in India. For the year ended June 30, 1881, the value of our exports in round numbers was $884,000,000; for the year ended June 30, 1886, the value was but $665,000,000. Of this great loss, amounting to $218,000,000, no less a sum than $214,000,000 was in food products. There was a gain of $10,000,000 in the exports of petroleum, and a loss of $42,000,000 in the exports of cotton. During the last five years we have exported breadstuffs valued at $898,000,000, and cotton valued at $1,051,000,000. The Railroad Gazette (New York) presents a table of exports for eleven successive years, ending with June 30, 1886, which shows the following facts:

For the first four years the cotton exports averaged 161 millions; since then, 216 millions; for the first three years the breadstuffs exports averaged 132 millions; for the next five, 233; for the last three, 150 millions. The fluctuations in provision exports have not been so great, but the course has been similar—a large increase, culminating in 1881, and then a decrease, making the value last year the lowest for ten years, while the average of the last four years, 120 millions, is 18 per cent. less than the average of the four years previous, 146 millions. Rarely has there been such a great development of trade as the increase in the combined breadstuffs and provision exports from 222 millions in 1876 to 443 in 1881, and rarely has there been such a decline as from the 443 millions in 1881 to the 228 last year. The growth was uninterrupted, and so was the decline.

The Gazette is in error in attributing the decline in the exports of breadstuffs chiefly to the fact that the consumption of our own country has required more. Production has been checked with us by the rapid decline of prices of breadstuffs, due largely to rapid increase of production in India. It is curious to observe that decrease of exports of wheat from our country to Europe has been in almost exact proportion to increase of exports of Indian wheat to European markets; and the same is true of cotton, though not yet in so marked a degree.

IN PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR.

Charles H. Cramp, of the ship-building firm of Cramp's Sons, Philadelphia, recently said: "Patriotism aside, I'd like to take a contract for seven millions of dollars to capture the entire Pacific coast." Mr. Cramp's proposition is not at all wild. There are three South American, two Asiatic and ten European powers that outrank us in respect to ships and guns. According to Chief Constructor Wilson, of the navy department, the range of the most powerful guns with which our present war ships are armed does not exceed two miles, and are utterly inefficient against modern fortifications or armored ships. Our ironclads comprise a dozen monitors, none of which are fit for service to-day. Provision was made by the last congress for the construction of eighteen new ships of all classes, at an aggregate cost of $20,000,000, but from two and a half to four years will be required to finish and arm them. The heaviest guns used by these vessels will be the modern twelve-inch breech-loading rifles, carrying a missile weighing 800 lbs., with a theoretical range of twelve miles, which unfavorable circumstances will reduce somewhat in practice. Seven of the new ships will be armored with sixteen inches of steel and constructed for the purpose of carrying these guns, but the others will be vessels of smaller size, to be used as swift cruisers. Of the steel cruisers ordered by Arthur's administration the Dolphin, 1500 tons displacement, is already completed and receiving her armament. The Atlanta, 3000 tons, is on her trial trip and her armament is being tested; while the Boston, 3000 tons, and the Chicago, 4500, are well advanced in construction. Five of the armored vessels are of the double turret monitor class, each designed to carry four heavy high-powered guns, throwing 500-pound shells with a possible range of ten miles.

These vessels are not designed for cruising, but for coast and harbor defense, but in an emergency they could be sent abroad, as they are seaworthy. The Miantonomah, 3315 tons, will be ready for service this year, the Puritan, 5000 tons, has her engines in place and is nearly ready for her armor, while the Terror, Amphitrite and Monadnock, 3315 tons each, are now receiving their machinery. The other two armored ships have not yet entered their first stage of existence, their construction having only been authorized by congress at the end of its last session. They are to be of 6000 tons displacement, to have double bottoms, engines designed to drive them at a speed of sixteen knots an hour, and complete torpedo outfit and armaments of the most effective kind.

Of the new cruisers ordered by the last congress the Newark, 4100 tons, will carry fourteen six-inch guns. Four of these at the stern and the same number at the bow will be so mounted that they can cover the water directly fore and aft of the vessel beyond 100 feet from the deck. This is a valuable idea. The broadside guns will have a sweep of 70 degrees. The second cruiser will be 3730 tons, will carry two ten-inch guns (one at the bow, the other at the stern) and eight six-inch guns broadside. The third cruiser will be 4400 tons and will carry four eight-inch guns of the most approved patterns, two forward and two on the quarters, besides a lot of six-inch guns broadside.

When these vessels are all completed and the new gunboats, which range from 1800 to 800 tons, the United States will outrank all the South American and Asiatic powers and the weaker powers of Europe, but would still be far outranked as a naval power by England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia. But to-day, with our new vessels none of them completed, we are at the foot of the list of the navies of the world and, as Mr. Cramp said, "San Francisco could be burnt to-morrow" by either China or Japan. Several years ago, when Moreno became prime minister of the Sandwich Islands he proposed to the king to import a million of Chinamen to work on the sugar plantations, taxing each immigrant $7. With this $7,000,000 five first class war vessels could be bought. He would equip them with the best Chinese sailors and teach them how to serve the guns, and with these vessels Moreno said he would take San Francisco and reduce the whole Pacific coast. If Moreno had been a fellow of the mettle of the American Ward or the Englishman Gordon, who led the Chinese troops in the famous Taeping rebellion, he certainly could have executed his threat, for we were then and are to-day perfectly defenseless against the attack of modern war ships, armored and armed after the best models of Europe.

Our wooden war ships are worthless to-day in event of war with England except as mere cruisers and few of them are swift enough to repeat the ruin the Alabama wrought with our merchant marine against the commerce of Great Britain. It will be a long time before the United States has a navy equal to the first-class powers of Europe, and for this reason it was an act of criminal neglect on the part of congress not to provide for the proper defense of our sea coast. That is what we really need more than a great navy. Without proper land defenses no navy that we are likely to have in the next twenty years can hope to protect our long coast line on the Atlantic and the Pacific. We stand to-day without either a navy or adequate sea coast fortifications and in the event of a war to-morrow with Chili, China or Japan, we would be helpless to prevent the destruction of any sea coast city within reach of the guns of their ironclads. Ex-President Hayes the other day said:

> I do not agree with the talk about the necessity for armies and ships of war. Our coast defenses might be strengthened. But I think that we do not need armies and ships of war so much as to go on increasing the education and intelligence of our population and the accumulation of wealth with which we may control everything.

Venice once was a great naval and military power, but she one day accepted the Hayes idea and was content only to increase "our intelligence and education and accumulate wealth" and Venice got very rich, but she woke up one fine morning and found she had lost her liberties, because her armies and navies had been suffered to drift into a state of "innocuous desuetude." George Washington was a good deal of a man and he said a brighter thing than President Hayes ever did when he remarked "In peace prepare for war."

Orlando B. Willcox, who has just been promoted to the rank of brigadier-general in the regular army, was born in Detroit, Mich., in 1823, and was graduated at West Point in 1847. Among his classmates were Gens. Burnside, Gibbon, Griffin and the distinguished Confederate generals, A. P. Hill and Henry Heth. He resigned from the regular army in 1857, studied law and practiced his profession in Detroit until 1861, when he was commissioned colonel of the First Michigan regiment of volunteer infantry. He commanded a brigade at the first battle of Bull Run, where he was severely wounded and taken prisoner and remained in confinement until August, 1862. On his exchange he was made a brigadier-general of volunteers, to date from July 21, 1861. He commanded a division of the Ninth army corps at Antietam, commanded the Ninth corps at the first battle of Fredericksburg; served under Burnside in the East Tennessee campaign of 1863; was division commander under Burnside from the Wilderness campaign to Petersburg. He distinguished himself at the final successful assault on Lee's lines before Petersburg April 2, 1865. At the close of the war Gen. Willcox entered the regular army, and became colonel of the Twenty-ninth infantry in 1866, and was transferred to the Twelfth infantry in 1869.

Ex-Senator Yulee, one of the most active of the promoters of the rebellion, is dead. He was a senator from Florida, and his name will be familiar to all who retain a personal recollection of ante-war politics. Since the war he has been quite forgotten.

The New York Sun calls attention to a remarkable fact in politics. It is that, with one exception, the democrats of New York have not elected a United States senator for forty-two years. Yet there is no northern state which the democrats have carried so often during that time, with the possible exception of New Jersey. The trouble is that its majority is all massed in the great cities of New York and Brooklyn.

There is quite a number of postoffices in Oregon whose salary attachment is but twelve dollars a year. Our democratic brethren are not making strenuous exertions to get these. They are quite willing that President Cleveland shall practice civil service reform on offices of this class, if he will only give them all the offices whose salaries go above the twelve-dollar limit.

The New York Times asserts that the movement in behalf of Henry George in that city is "visibly on the wane." We shall all know more about this two weeks hence.

There are now 181 free delivery postoffices in the United States. The work requires 4481 carriers.

MR. GEER AND HIGH LICENSE.

SKIPANON, Oct. 16, 1886.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Free and fair discussion of any important public question tends toward the formation of correct public sentiment in regard to it. For this, and for no personal consideration, I ask space in your columns for a word in reply to Mr. Geer's "review" of a "letter" of mine. It is because Mr. Geer is a representative of a large number of good temperance men that his utterance deserves more consideration. To make a full answer to the points he raises would require more space than THE OREGONIAN could afford. To make a study of the views of prohibitionists, let him consult the articles and speeches of Herrick Johnson, St. John, Miss Willard and others. It always contributes to conciseness, clearness and satisfactory argument for a disputant to master beforehand the arguments of those whom he would oppose. It prevents his making random strokes and saves his opponent much explanation.

It is more than one is allowed to expect to look for perfect understanding and candid statement of one's opinions from an opponent. Without at all complaining of Mr. Geer, I would call attention to the fact that he represents the drift of my communication as favorable to free rum; that I, in common with others of my party, draw my loyalty to prohibition chiefly from my hatred to the republican party; that I favor the use of compulsion to "make men good;" and that I expect prohibition to exterminate intemperance. Nothing in this, or any other communication of mine; nor, as far as I know, in any modern prohibition writing, would warrant him in attributing these views to me or to any prohibitionist. Many suppose that the above is somewhere near the prohibition creed, but they have not examined closely enough to know their error.

Far from desiring to ruin the republican party, all my approbation and sympathies are with the traditions and history of the republican party. No one would be more glad than I to see that party add to its laurels by setting law free from the domination of the liquor power. No one is more glad than I at the movement of the anti-saloon republicans. But where, as in this state, the republicans are not free from political bandits, and as a party handle legal prohibition as a mere political counter, I am free to attach myself to the party that proposes to do the work I desire to see done. They are in great error who suppose that the animus of the prohibitionists is mere acrid hostility to the republicans.

No prohibitionist expects to make men good by legal compulsion. They consider the tolerance of liquor-selling, under the protection of law, a great legal wrong. They believe it is putting the power of the state into the hands of the enemies of good order, who use it for the extension of vice and crime for their own personal profit. They think that orderly, industrious, honest people merit legal protection from the evils of the liquor traffic. Moral suasion, scientific education, physical training, religious culture, as I expressly stated before, must all be used to overcome intemperance, as theft or murder. But the traffic in liquors, the saloon as a public den of disorder, ought to be placed under the ban of the law, as we prohibit all other things which threaten the safety of society. Protection of society by law, so that the guilty and malicious shall not endanger the rights of their neighbors is a thing totally different from the reclamation of sinners. Ministers do not expect to save sinners either by the law of Moses or by the law of the state. Yet they are at liberty to urge legislation which will mediate justly between citizens, securing common rights to each, and protecting the weak from the rapacity of the strong.

It is a stale charge against prohibitionists that they wish paradise or nothing. Perhaps we ought not to complain if we are set down as desiring very earnestly a state of society in which laws shall be just, public equity sacred, and individual rights inviolable. Perhaps we ought not to be blamed if we contend for a whole loaf—not for ourselves only, but for society. We should consider ourselves mean spirited to be satisfied with half-way measures if, by earnest endeavor, we could secure complete measures. Prohibition is correct in principle, and more effective than anything else in practice. It is theoretically a complete measure. But all prohibitionists know that it fails below completeness in execution, as do all laws. Mr. Geer can find nothing in the letter he reviews to give color to his statement that prohibitionists are attempting to accomplish more than the Almighty. It was there advocated that the law be made just, and the execution of it as complete as possible. God's law owes its dignity to its perfect equity, and no lack of complete administration detracts from that dignity. We hold that a law which is just and equitable, protecting virtue, denouncing crime, thereby gains approbation and executive force. Without claiming complete suppression of the liquor traffic by prohibition, we claim that law is rendered respectable thereby, and the traffic reduced more than by any other means. A letter to the Toledo Blade last August from Council Grove, Kansas, incidentally mentioning this subject, says "It is useless to say that prohibition does not prohibit. It may not absolutely, but it has wrought a great change for the better in this state."

Let it be understood that we claim for prohibition more practical results than for any other form of dealing with the question; but it is a ludicrous misrepresentation of our position to say that we aim at "total prohibition of all sin and crime." Mr. Geer's scriptural argument, if it have any point, would be as effective against all legal prohibition as against prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Prohibitionists are not favorable to free whisky. It was not to express my approbation of free whisky, but my distrust of license that I said that the latter was as bad as the former. License, high or low, is a delusion. Mr. Geer, like many avowed temperance men, favors it as a half-way restriction, about as much as we can get: a half loaf better than none. But license is no restriction; it is permission. It makes no difference how high it is, unless it be set purposely so high as to make it impossible for any one to take one out: and then it is not license, but prohibition.

High license may close a few saloons; the rest do more business. The rich man is favored by the government. Another man is kept from a lucrative business, not because he is a worse man, not because the business is any more dishonorable, but because he is poor. The distilleries and breweries are not going to see the volume of their business diminished. Enough saloons will be kept open by them, even though they pay $600 a year, to dispose of their product. The man who takes out a license gets his money back very quickly. He can adulterate. He can get a large custom. He can keep a den in one room for the rough-scuff; a hall for the "gentlemen." His profits will be just as great as ever. Whatever loss there is must come out of the customers. Even if enforced and the tax promptly gathered high license restricts the traffic scarcely at all. It is not a half loaf; it is scarcely a crumb. But high license as a restrictive measure meets with the same opposition and difficulties as prohibition. Can a saloon run contrary to law under prohibition? So can it under high license. Can the "rummies" secrete liquors in cellars and garrets and hay piles, under a prohibitory amendment? So could they under a high license, if the license were high enough to make it any object. High license seldom stays very high. If it has the slightest smell of restrictive prohibition about it, it is fought by the whole liquor power. Halfway measures are harder to enforce than complete measures. Under license of any kind every one can get all the liquors he wants. He could do no more under free whisky;—only a high tax on liquors makes a greater incentive to put tobacco, blue vitriol, arsenic, corrosive sublimate strychnine and similar mild mannered drugs into a gallon of alcohol to make a keg of whisky of it.

The alternative to free whisky is not license; but prohibition, or its relative, local option.

Every earnest temperance man must sooner or later see that prohibition is the only way to restrict the liquor traffic.

CONSTRUCTION OF WATER WORKS.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMITTEE, PORTLAND, OREGON, October 8, 1886.

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION of works for the water supply of the city of Portland, Oregon, will be received at this office until 12 M. December 15th, 1886.

These works will be constructed according to the printed specifications dated August 24th, 1886, and will include thirty-one miles of wrought-iron pipe, 27 and 22½ inches in diameter; three iron bridges; two thousand feet of submerged pipe under and across the Willamette river; a reservoir within the city limits and all other works described in the specifications, excepting those specified as "Head works," which are now under contract.

The specifications provide that the wrought-iron pipes shall be made of iron sixty inches in width, but proposals will also be received for furnishing the iron, and for manufacturing the entire length of pipe of iron either forty-two, forty-eight, or sixty inches width.

Proposals will also be received for the construction of all the works described in the specifications, excepting the Head-works, for a lump sum, the contractor being at liberty to use iron for the pipes either forty-two, forty-eight, or sixty inches in width, the whole work to be completed within eighteen months after signing the contract.

In these modified forms of proposals the width of iron proposed will be stated in the bids, and a copy of this advertisement will be attached to each bid.

The proposals will be endorsed on the outside of the sealed envelope, "Proposals for Construction of Water Works," and addressed to Philip C. Schuyler, clerk of the Water Committee, Portland, Oregon.

The specifications and such further information as may be required will be furnished on application by

ISAAC W. SMITH, Engineer of the Water Committee, Portland, Oregon.

J. B. CONGLE'S SUPERB EXHIBIT.

Mr. J. B. Congle, the veteran harness and saddle manufacturer, is in his old stand on the main floor of the Pavilion, with a magnificent display of fine saddles and harnesses of his own manufacture. He has one of the handsomest full stamped Spanish stockman's saddles ever made on the coast; also three regular "cowboy's" saddles of extra strength and finish and a plain Cheyenne. In fine gentlemen's saddles he exhibits an English shafto. For ladies, two of the handsomest side-saddles ever shown in Portland are displayed: one is a full-quilted English style and the other a "Lady Morgan," finished in enameled leather. In harnesses he exhibited a fine coach, three sets of light double buggy, three sets of single buggy, very fine, and an extra single buggy harness which is a "daisy" and no mistake; also a set of single express harness, a fine heavy one set of dray and a set of double team harness. A full line of rich and handsome carriage and buggy robes are shown, and are worthy of especial notice, being an extra fine silk plush lap robe. To the delight of the "cowboys," expensive silver inlaid spurs and bridle bits are exhibited, and the most gorgeous pair of "Cow Boy's parabocs" ever made on the coast, together with a number of other articles, all going to make up an exhibit which has been seldom equaled, and never surpassed.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

VISIT TO THE DOG POUND.—One who has had his slumbers disturbed by the yelpings and howlings of the useless canines which are too numerous around this city, is apt to wish that the dog-catcher had them all in his pen. But if he could once take a look at the unfortunate dogs who are imprisoned in that place awaiting the intervention of friends or sentence of death he could not but pity them, useless nuisances though they be. Not all the dogs captured by the poundmaster are bad or worthless dogs. Some of them have been the victim of circumstances over which they had no control. A reporter took a peep at Mr. Wilmer's collection yesterday. When the sliding door of the dark room in which they are confined was opened the poor brutes looked as ashamed as some not utterly hardened people do when found in the lock up. One little yellow dog, a regular hoodlum, looked brazen enough, and when Wilmer threw a lot of scraps of meat into the trough, the little rascal snapped at and drove away the others. One sheep dog, which has evidently been used to better company, put his pointed muzzle into Wilmer's hand as if begging to be released. A vicious looking black and tan skulked in a corner as if he felt guilty, and a big mongrel looked as if he did not care whether the school kept or not. When the door was closed on the collection of "mongrel, sheep and puppy dog and curs of low degree" there was a rush for the food by all hands, and a snarling and growling which boded no good to the weak or timid. Of all the animal creation the dog is man's most faithful friend, and it does not speak well for the owners of dogs that so many of them have to be caught up and killed. Mr. Wilmer feeds his captives well and takes pains to see that owners of valuable dogs have a chance to get them. He has a large St. Bernard and a handsome spaniel tied up in the stable now, in hopes that some one will claim them, for he has a kindly heart and hates to kill the dogs, but, like Frederick in "The Pirates," he is "a slave to duty" and has quite an extensive cemetery on the bank of the river, away below the city.

TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.—Yesterday was set apart by the national committee of the Woman's Christian Temperance union as a special day of prayer to be observed throughout our country as a day of prayer for the cause of temperance. The day was observed in Portland by the several pastors who preached special sermons in the interest of the great cause and by a union meeting of the uptown churches held in the tabernacle. A short praise service conducted by Mr. E. C. Frost, of the Y. M. C. A., was followed by prayer by the Rev. W. R. Stevenson, of the United Presbyterian church. Rev. E. W. Caswell, after a few brief remarks introduced Prof. G. M. Miller, president of the state temperance alliance, who in choice language gave an outline of the temperance movement, its present needs and the dangers from which it endeavors to keep the young and rescue those who had fallen. Mrs. D. Clark, of Montana, a prominent worker in the W. C. T. U., was then introduced. Mrs. Clark is a speaker of ability and held the large audience present closely through her remarks in which she forcibly set forth the evils of intemperance. The speaker spoke of the encouraging signs of the times, saying God is using the women of our land in a wonderful way, and every mother and wife should lend her active sympathy to the cause. Rev. W. R. Stevenson then read Solomon's description of a drunkard and depicted the sad result of a life given to drink. The meeting closed with a warm and earnest exhortation by Rev. E. W. Caswell and singing "The Crowning Day is Coming."

MUSHROOMS.—At an early hour yesterday morning a large number of people were prancing around the fields and pastures in the outskirts of the city in search of mushrooms. The late cool rains have caused this delicious fungus to spring up in favorable localities in large numbers and some parties secured large quantities. They form a very palatable and nutritious dish and are considered by many a great delicacy. Owing to the plentiful food supply in this favored land they are not used to the same extent here that they are in Europe where in some parts they are eagerly sought for and are regularly seen in the markets during their season. They make delicious catsup, they are pickled, canned and dried and in these forms are exported to all countries and can be found in all first class groceries here. Only two or three kinds of fungi out of some fifty wholesome varieties are eaten in this country. There are some poisonous varieties and many are deterred from eating any kind for fear of getting poisoned. Any one who has ever seen the common mushroom will have no difficulty in knowing it from the poisonous kind, but it is very difficult to acquire this knowledge from a written description. There is one infallible test to ascertain whether your mushrooms are wholesome or poisonous. Cook and eat a liberal allowance. If you feel good and have a pleasant after taste lingering in your mouth for several hours, the mushrooms are the right kind. If they kill you—well there you are.

MARCH THEM ONE WAY.—So great was the crowd at the pavilion Saturday evening that any attempt to move about was attended with positive discomfort. No doubt the attendance every night this week will be so large that the galleries, at least, will be crowded and locomotion will not be easy. Most of the unpleasantness attending moving in crowded assemblages can be avoided if the people will all march one way—say west along the north gallery and east along the south gallery. This will prevent jostling. In order to start the crowd right it will be necessary to station a policeman at the head of each of the four stairways, with instructions to tell every fresh arrival which way to walk. One telling will suffice. The crowd will naturally "fall into line" for self-protection and comfort. To-night's musical programme has already been published, and it is too late to make amendments, but for to-morrow evening the directors might instruct Mr. Meyrelles to play a nice assortment of marches, and then the fair, in addition to all its other attractions, will be a genuine promenade concert.

ANOTHER KILN.—The new kiln lately completed at the works of the Portland Lime and Cement company, is in full blast and is doing its work to perfection. As soon as there is a "let up" in building and the demand for lime becomes less pressing, the company will be enabled to overhaul kiln No. 1, which has been running without a moment's cessation since April last, and is beginning to need repairs. The company will put up another kiln early in the spring, probably in February, in order to be prepared for the opening of the next building season. The enterprise of the Portland Lime and Cement company has proved highly successful and has been the means, not only of furnishing work to many men, in quarrying rock, burning and barrelling the lime, cutting and hauling wood, making barrels, etc., but has saved thousands of dollars to builders in this city and elsewhere.

PICTURING THE OTHER SIDE.—The attention of all fair minded anglers is called to a "Happy Thought" illustration in the current number of Punch, entitled "How to Equalize the Odds." It represents a fisherman with his hands tied behind his back, a hook on one end of a line run through his nose while a big salmon is attached to the other end of the line in the same manner. The salmon evidently thinks he has a soft snap and is laughing all over his face as he "plays" the poor fisherman and yanks him out into the river. Hunters allow the birds a chance for their lives by letting them take wing before being shot at, but fishermen give the poor fish no show for his life. Perhaps some fisherman who believes in fair play may be induced to try Punch's plan with small helpless fish.

IN PROPHECY AND HISTORY.—A large crowd assembled in the Y. M. C. A. hall yesterday afternoon to hear an address on the "Modern Jew in Prophecy and History," by Rev. Thomas Boyd. The speaker first showed how the Jewish people were scattered and banished, in accordance with the prophecy, but later on they were to be in full power and over the Gentiles. This, he said, is being verified in our days. The wealth of the world is in the hands of the Jews. The press in many European countries is controlled by them, and even in politics they are now coming to the front, whereas once they had no voice in it. Mr. Charles Dudley, the elocutionist, read "Paul's Defence Before Agrippa" and Prof. Dabbins rendered a solo entitled "Nothing but Leaves."

SAVING ONE-HALF.—The system of exchange tickets adopted by the First street and the Washington street lines has proved a considerable saving in the aggregate during the Mechanics' fair. Car fares for families who have to use two lines is no little item, and where the expense is cut down just one-half, the public feel that for once they are getting the best of corporations. Now, if the Washington street railway will only run their cars on the main line so as to make reasonably close connection with the branches they will seldom hear a complaint.

EVERY OTHER DAY.—Beginning to-day, the steamer Traveler will make trips three times a week between this city and La Camas, leaving Portland (Columbia River Paper company's wharf, foot of Alder street) at 9 A. M. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, returning Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The shortness of the days from this time on makes daily trips somewhat hazardous. The paper mill at La Camas and the industries around it furnish the Traveler with what may be called a "comfortable living."

READY FOR SAILING.—The bark Coloma has moved down to Coloma dock and is nearly ready to take her Chinese passengers on board. The huge water tanks on deck, the spacious cook house forward, the house over the hatchway with the stairway to the lower deck, and the doctor's cabin on the poop deck, all show that a large number of people are going on a long voyage. The Coloma looks as clean and bright as a new pin, as she always does. She will probably take her passengers on board on Wednesday and sail on Saturday. The elegant and spacious cabin of the Coloma will be occupied this trip by several passengers, and as this is Capt. Noyes's seventeenth trip across the pond they need have no fears of his losing the way.

STONE SELECTED FOR A CHURCH.—The building committee of the First Presbyterian church have decided that the walls shall be of basaltic stone, rough ashler, and the trimmings of Bellingham bay sand stone. In other words, the walls will be something very like the unfinished Villard hotel and the trimmings of the color of the postoffice building. It is understood that the basaltic stone will be taken from the Butte quarry a few miles east of the city.

THE EAST SIDE.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The teachers of the public schools of East Portland and Albina held a meeting at the Central school building in this city on Saturday last for the purpose of organizing a teachers' institute. There were twenty-six teachers present—Prof. Wash and his assistants of the Albina school and all the teachers of district No. 21. Prof. W. A. Wetzell stated the object of the meeting to be the permanent organization of a teachers' institute, to be held monthly during the school year, after which the association proceeded to the election of officers, with the following result: Prof. W. A. Wetzell, president; Miss Ella McBride, secretary; executive committee, Mrs. F. E. Alford of the Central school; Miss Wilson of the Albina school, and Mr. Walter Johnson of the Stephens school. It was decided to hold the first regular meeting on November 6, at 10 A. M. The programme will be announced in due time. All the teachers in East Portland, Albina and surrounding districts are invited to attend and participate in the discussion of topics presented to the association.

Y. M. C. A. SECOND ENTERTAINMENT.

The attendance at Neppach's hall on the occasion of the second entertainment given by Mr. Charles Dudley, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association of this city, on Saturday evening, was not as large as was anticipated, owing, it is thought, to the fact that about one-third of our citizens crossed the river to attend the Mechanics' fair. The readings of Mr. Dudley and the music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. George Parrish were equally as good as at the first entertainment, and those who attended expressed themselves as well pleased.

INJURED BY FALLING TIMBERS.

A young man named Theodore Neibaner was badly injured on Friday last, while at work on a bridge over the Santiam, by having a stick of timber 12x12 fifteen feet long fall across his stomach. He was placed in a wagon and driven to Albany, where he was put on board the train and arrived in this city on Saturday and taken to the residence of his sister, Mrs. Lincoln, in Stephens addition. A physician is in attendance and he is receiving every necessary attention. His injuries, though painful, are not considered dangerous.

ARM FRACTURED.

A 13-year-old son of Mr. C. V. Donley of Holladay's addition had an arm broken on Saturday evening in the following manner: It seems he went to jump on the rear of a wagon which was passing at the intersection of Fourth and J streets, when a boy struck the horse with a whip, and he started off with a sudden jerk, and the boy was thrown to the ground with his arm underneath him. A physician reduced the fracture, and the boy is doing as well as could be expected.

NOTES.

The fencing and sheds being erected for the Portland stockyards near the O. & C. railroad on this side of the river are nearing completion, and the yards will soon be ready to receive stock.

Some time during Saturday night or Sunday morning about 100 feet of picket fence in front of the Garrigan property on the corner of Fourth and D streets fell with a crash across the sidewalk, where it lay all day yesterday. The cause of the fall is said to be rotten fence posts. No lives lost.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Street Corner Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Urging Sinners to Repentance.

About 2:30 yesterday afternoon a strange looking squad came marching up First street. It was the Salvation army. In the lead was the captain, a woman of 25 or thereabouts, tall, well formed, with regular features, and nearly good looking. Next came two younger women, smaller, and plainer, called cadets. They wore navy blue Jerseys buttoned in the back, and skirts of heavy woolen material to match, and black poke bonnets. Across their bosoms were the words, "Salvation Army," embroidered in yellow zephyr. Each carried a tambourine. Behind the women came the sergeant and a private, and behind them, five or six men, evidently sailors.

Marching with regular step and singing in clear voice a gospel hymn set to military music, the little procession went as far as Washington, turned the corner and halted. They formed a circle, singing meanwhile. A crowd of 500 or more gathered around them. The sergeant offered a short prayer. Then one of the new recruits received in Portland, came to the center, and addressing the crowd, said he was not ashamed to join Christ's army. If he was he would not be present. He warned his hearers that the end of the world would come some time, and if a man wants to be saved he must repent and believe while Christ offered to act as mediator. It is too late to repent after Christ had become your judge.

The army then sang "I've been a bad boy; I'll be so no more." The captain spoke briefly exhorting her hearers in camp-meeting style to forsake sin, embrace Christ, and live a pure life. Without a moment's intermission, the army struck up another song, "Even drunkards may come." Then a well-known resident of Couch said that he was converted a week ago by the Salvation Army, and had experienced a complete change of heart. He had quit drinking and had quit using tobacco to which habit he had been a slave for thirty-eight years. He urged all to seek Christ. After another song, a rather tough-looking young sailor, a very recent convert, gave very much the same experience as the previous speaker.

Then the captain sold several copies of the War Cry, containing a portrait of Gen. Booth, for 5 cents apiece, one of the cadets meanwhile singing "We'll Battle for God or We'll Die." The captain then made the final appeal: "If you want peace, come to our barracks on B street, between Fourth and Fifth. You won't hear any fine sermons. We haven't what the world is pleased to call wisdom, but if you want the peace of God in your hearts come to our barracks. We are home every night and all day Sunday. Our barracks are small. We ought to have a building big enough to hold 5000. We haven't any reserved seats and the first come get the front seats. Come to-night. God bless you. Fall in."

At this the little army formed in line and marched down First street, singing a gospel hymn to the tune of "Marching through Georgia."

How the army conduct a meeting in their barracks was well described in yesterday's OREGONIAN by Chaplain Stubbs.

WHEAT—Advices generally easier, the cargoes market being weakened by a withdrawal of buyers for the continent and San Francisco selling a shade lower because of the general condition. Here receipts are large and shippers are not pressed to buy. Recent purchases in the Walla Walla section have been large, generally at something less than $1 15, that being best figure here for desirable parcels. We quote $1 12½@1 15, the latter an extreme not readily obtainable. Valley moves freely but is not in active trading, $1 22½ being best quotation. The last steamer out from Yaquina carried the first wheat of the season to go that way, a total shipment of 3742 sacks.

OATS—Irregular and receipts quite free, giving larger local supplies and putting stocks in the hands of jobbers. A portion of the receipt is for San Francisco or to fill commissary contracts. Some inferior sold at 35c, the quotation for best being 38@42c, as to purpose.

POTATOES—Receipts to-day include 195 sacks for San Francisco, through account. That market is not materially changed, quoting $1 as best price for Oregon. Here dealers seldom go above 80c, even for local needs.

APPLES—Heavy arrivals noted, and the market is overstocked, outside demands failing to take all offering. As a consequence sales are slow and prices not satisfactory, 40@50c being obtained as a rule for best.

PROVISIONS—The call is good, and stocks of choice do not increase. There is very little new local offering, and only a fair receipt of Eastern is to be noted. Values generally firm.

DRIED FRUITS—Values firm, with an apparent good undertone. Receipts light and call good. Old does not sell readily unless very choice.

CHICKENS—Market heavily overstocked, and the common run of receipts sell at $2@2 50.

EGGS—Northern demands cleaned up stocks, and to-day 35c was generally obtained by dealers. Stocks are low. Interior dealers write that the product is not being held back, but that there is a scarcity, as hens are not laying. This may also account for the heavy offerings of chickens noted.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Government bonds were dull and firm. Stocks presented the same general features as yesterday, the principal activity being confined to a few specialties, while the general market was comparatively dull, and its fluctuations slight. The market was active throughout the day and was subject to frequent fluctuations which, in a great measure, neutralized each other. The opening was generally strong at from ⅛ to ½ above the closing figures of last evening. It developed much irregularity and feverishness in early trading, which, however, soon disappeared and the market moved up in unison. Final prices show irregular changes, though a majority of the active list are higher.

In the mining market Little Pittsburg rose 8 cents and Leadville advanced 2@3 cents. Sales: Mono $2 75, California & Virginia 25.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—There have been two important features to the wool market this week. One was an auction sale of flannels in New York, the other labor troubles among knitting mills in New York. Wool continues to be good property, and holders are confident. Their position is one of positive strength. The demand has been good, sales for the week have been fair, the average amounting to 3,519,900 pounds of all kinds. Prices of some grades of fine wool have been advanced. Oregon wool is quiet, with sales of 60,000 pounds at 24@25c, and 152,000 pounds at private terms.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The B. P. Cheney carried 917,000 feet of lumber.

At last advices the ship Solitaire was at Acapulco ready to sail for Puget sound.

Br ship Eudora was at Hiogo August 28, for Yokohama and Port Moody.

Br bark Mobile Bay sailed from Liverpool the 11th inst. for this port.

Br barks River Nith and Glenrosa arrived at Queenstown 8th inst.

Br bark Shalimar arrived at Londonderry 4th inst. to discharge.

On Friday the British barks Loch Awe and San Luis left Astoria for this city in tow of the E. N. Cooke. Each vessel carried a pilot. Before clearing the harbor they fouled the British barks Kitty and Nagpore, at anchor. The Nagpore escaped with a broken anchor stock. The Loch Awe struck the Kitty, carrying away the latter's jibboom, fore royalmast and bringing down all attached, and forcing her anchor into two plates near the bow. The Loch Awe had starboard mizzen rigging and backstays damaged, shrouds parted near middle, davits and part of rail broken, main royalmast brought down and main cross-trees strained. The anchor of another vessel, probably the Kitty, was forced through the side. The San Luis escaped without damage. Approximate damage includes $20 to Nagpore, $1000 to Kitty and $3000 to Loch Awe. The masters seem to think it a case of too many pilots, although the tows were working against a flood tide, and, it is claimed, took a sheer.

GO TO THE POLLS.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.

To the Woman Voters of Washington Territory: Let every woman in the territory of Washington who is a qualified elector go to the polls at the coming election.

Let your voice be heard and your influence be felt. Let your light shine in all its brilliancy.

If you fail to exercise the right of suffrage, such failure will furnish the strongest possible reason for depriving you of it. Nay, more. If you voluntarily fold your hands and stay at home on election day, you ought to be disfranchised. The ballot was given to you, not to be held as a keepsake, but to be used as a weapon—a weapon which falls like a snowflake, "but executes a freeman's will."

Three candidates for delegate to congress are in the field.

In deciding for yourselves for which candidate to cast your ballot, be not misled by gilt-edged platform or partisan speeches. Stand upon your own platforms and your own convictions of duty.

Look at the candidates, their character, habits, associations and antecedents.

Let your consciences tell you for whom you can vote without loss of self-respect and without bringing ridicule and contempt upon woman suffrage.

Teach political conventions that your moral sensibilities are not dead. Teach them that unclean candidates are not worthy of your support. Teach them that you have the courage as well as the power to resent an insult to yourselves, your children and your homes.

SILVER MINE DISCOVERED.

STAMPEDE PASS, W. T., Oct. 13.

A big silver mine has been discovered in the Cascade mountains, which for richness and extent bids fair to surpass anything that has been discovered for years. The lode is situated on the summit of the Cascade mountains, near where the "switchback" line of the N. P. R. R. crosses the Stampede pass. The lucky discoverer is H. M. Rogers, a sub-contractor, a resident of Colfax, W. T. The float rock assayed $200 to the ton, native silver and sulphates. He has discovered the ledge, which is a well defined ledge seven feet wide, assaying $1000 to the ton, with tons of ore in sight.

It is rumored that Mr. Rogers has refused an offer of $10,000 for a half interest. Excitement is at the highest pitch, and claims are being taken up in all directions.

Another Life Saved.

J. C. Gray, of Dadeville, Ala., writes us: "I have been taking your DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and I can say, of a truth, it is far superior to any other lung preparation in the world. My mother was confined to her bed four weeks with a cough, and had every attention by a good physician but he failed to effect a cure; and when I got one bottle of your DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, she began to mend right away. I can say in truth that it was the means of saving her life. I know of five cases that DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM has cured, and my mother is better than she has been for twenty years."

BLACK WOLF

Or Black Leprosy, is a disease which is considered incurable, but it has yielded to the curative properties of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC—now known all over the world as S. S. S. Mrs. Bailey, of West Somerville, Mass., near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption, and was treated by the best medical talent, who could only say that the disease was a species of and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf, and commended the sufferer to her all-wise Creator.

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S. S. S.), prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She began its use under protest, but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison, as the sores assumed a red and healthy color, as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs. Bailey continued the S. S. S. until last February; every sore was healed; she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in twelve years a well woman. Her husband, Mr. F. A. Bailey, is in business at 17½ Blackstone Street, Boston, and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.

Get the Best

is a good motto to follow in buying medicine, as well as in everything else. By the universal satisfaction it has given, and by the many remarkable cures it has accomplished, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven itself unequaled for building up and strengthening the system, and for all diseases arising from impure blood. Do not experiment with any unusual or untried article which you are told is "just as good," but be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I consider Hood's Sarsaparilla the best medicine I ever used. It gives me an appetite and refreshing sleep, and keeps the cold out." J. HUS S. FOGG, 106 Spruce Street, Portland, Me.

"I was generally run down, had no appetite and felt the need of a good tonic. I have taken other medicines, but never used any that did me so much good as Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have a good appetite and feel renewed all over. I am better than I have been for years." E. H. RAND, 8 West Ninth st., Oswego, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any preparation I ever heard of." MRS. C. A. HUBBARD, N. Chili, N. Y.

THE CELEBRATED SPECIALIST, Whose name is a household word throughout the United States and Canada, needs no introduction to the people of the Pacific coast, but would simply announce that he is now permanently located at Multnomah Block, opposite Postoffice, Portland, Or., where he continues to treat, with the same wonderful success as of old,

ALL CHRONIC, NERVOUS & PRIVATE DISEASES

Such as Lost Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Exhausted Vitality, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Prostatorrhea, Impotency, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Syphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Lungs, Heart and Stomach; Premature Decline, Weakness in Women, and all Functional Derangements that result from youthful follies or excess in later years.

YOUNG MEN

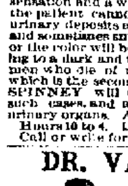

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will Guarantee to Forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

Middle-aged Men

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin, whitish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR. SPINNEY will Guarantee a Perfect Cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs. Address Box 523, Portland, Or. Hours 10 to 4. Later hours by appointment. Call or write for pamphlet and list of questions.
